

Members Values Statement

promoting excellence in leadership and management

Our Vision

....an increasingly successful, dynamic and professional third sector, led by Chief Officers who are supported, enabled and equipped to maximise their use of resources and inspired to deliver their agendas in effective, creative ways.

Values Statement for Members

On joining ACOSVO members are encouraged to adhere to the following values:

To be an active member

To have a commitment to continuing professional development, be involved in ACOSVO's plans and events and enable ACOSVO to be led members through taking part in feedback and evaluation.

To strive for excellence in leadership and Management

To believe in the importance of effective leadership and management in order to see the third sector flourish and develop. Shape excellence across the sector through membership of ACOSVO.

To share good practice and excellence

To learn from each other, share experiences, re-think and adapt rather than re-invent and encourage and inspire.

To be innovative and creative

To think new ideas, try things differently, be open to inspiration, widen horizons and try creative approaches.

To offer peer support to fellow members

To take part in networking events, be active in supporting fellow members, develop peer support networks informally, use member's directory, be involved in mentoring programme.

To reduce duplication and encourage collaboration

Be open to developing new partnerships, search for common ground, collaborate on joint projects where appropriate.

To think strategically

To see the bigger picture, consider a wider sectoral viewpoint and contribute to discussions and debates nationally as ACOSVO members.
